Foreword

The pathways through high school are ones which we will never forget. Our high school days are another leap toward the destiny which is set before us. Through this book we have tried to portray some of these pathways to the future upon which we have all tread. There are many rough and rocky pathways along the way into which many tend to be drawn. If the destination is kept in sight, the obstacles can be conquered, and the high school stepping stone will have served the purpose of being a means of guidance. The years after graduation will be the most important ones of our lives, and the most difficult. In order to make the dreams of high school days come true, we must work. If we hesitate or become too complacent, our dreams will shatter about us. With all these thoughts in mind, we present you the 1966 edition of the DOWNINGTONIAN.

Principal's Message

To the Members of the Class of 1966:

Though I've known you for but one year, my hope is that whatever befalls you in life you will walk with your head high, in dignity and self respect.

The adjustments which you have had to make as a result of the change in administration are indicative of the many challenges you'll face as future citizens of tomorrow. Meet them courageously and with determination. Be an influence always for the good. May those with whom you associate also be led to a better life and a finer concept of their friendship with you.

"Climbing says the great satirist, Jonathan Swift, is commonly performed in the same position as creeping." From time to time in history men have crawled to great places and great wealth, and having reached an eminence, have been too stooped and bowed by their long accustomed posture to be able to stand erect again as men. The spine of their character has been so crooked as to forbid them from having a level eye with their fellowmen or looking humbly upward to God.

I trust that your education in Downingtown Industrial and Agricultural School has given you beyond knowledge and skill, a sense of the true values of life.

Sincerely yours,

Malcolm D. Amos

Vice Principal's Message

TO THE CLASS OF 1966

"Concern," the title of last year's commencement program, is the one word I have in mind in these remarks to the Class of 1966. Riots in North Philadelphia and in Los Angeles mainly involving young people, have pointed to the fact that youth have a cynical attitude toward life which expresses itself in defiance and disrespect to their parents, teachers, those in authority and to law and order in general. I see this evidenced in an increasing degree now at Downingtown. I am greatly concerned that you should apply more positively the lessons your teachers have tried to teach you and that you head off this plunge toward an uncertain future.

I can best express this to you in these quotations from the Bible: "See to it that you walk with care: not as unwise but as wise, making the most of your time, because the days are evil . . . Be not overcome by evil but overcome with good."

Raymond A. Lemmon

Sponsor's Message

To the Senior Class of 1966:

Your achievement of graduating has come about only through your hard work. You will find that anything else you get in life, from here on, will be much more difficult and even harder.

When I was named as the sponsor of your class in your Junior year, I frequently mentioned several choices that you must make to get ahead in life. Some of these choices were: to make good grades, or to have poor grades. To have good behavior, also to have good relations with your classmates and teachers. These are some of the same choices that you will be facing in real life. If at this late date, you are still undecided about these simple choices, it is almost too late in making your decision now.

Some of you were concerned about where you were placed in the auditorium. I want you to know that it isn't important as to where you are placed, but it is very important as to how you will measure up in competition with other graduates.

Finally, I would like to wish for all of you the best of luck and happiness in life.

I want to congratulate each one of you on your achievement. May God bless each member in the Class of 1966.

Sincerely yours,

Howard B. Carter

Ex-Sponsor's Message

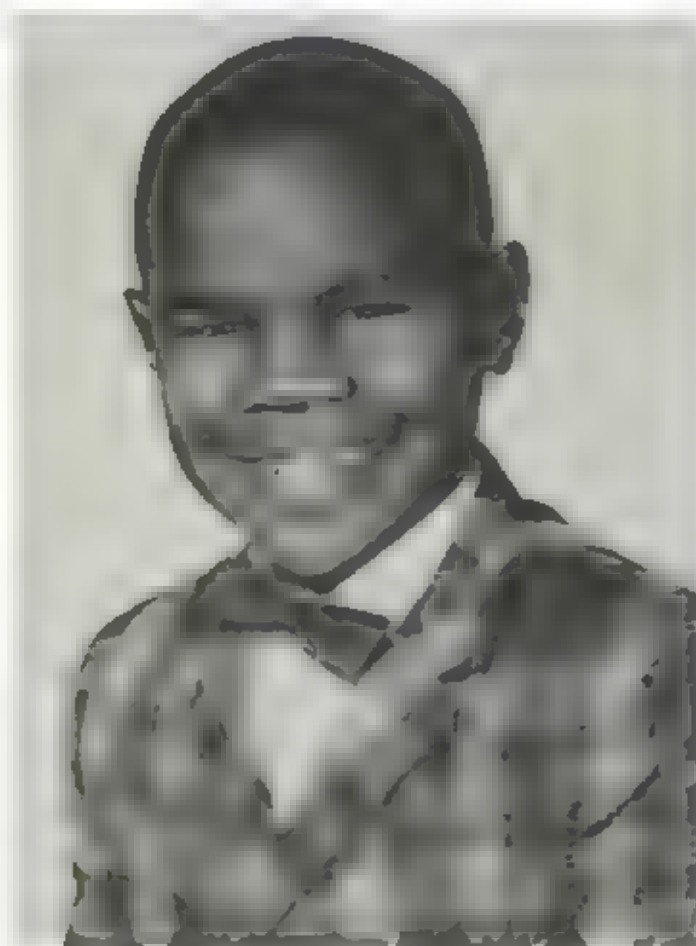

I congratulate each one of you on your progress. Graduation is one of those happy times when we remember the many interesting experiences which we have shared with fellow students and with teachers.

Graduation is also a time to look to the future to make important decisions about college, a job, marriage - these are some of the prospects. The main thing to remember is that graduation is not only an end but a beginning.

You are graduating at a great time. This age has been called the age of anxiety and yet with all of its anxiety - war, prejudice, and poverty it is a great time to be graduating. Great because of its many challenges. We are engaged with the challenge to build a great society and to help eliminate poverty. If the society becomes a reality it will come through education. So develop yourselves to your fullest so that you can make your contribution. Remember that the future is yours to grasp if you want it. There are no barriers.

Edith I. Gibbs

Welcome to the Amoses

On behalf of the Senior Class of 1966 I would like to welcome to our campus our new principal and his family, who untiringly and devotedly, have given us their all. You have tried to instill in us a sense of responsibility and a breadth of experience, so necessary for this challenging world we are about to face.

You have inspired us to new depths with concern for our school and of pride in our Alma Mater.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos, we welcome you and wish you success in the future.

We

Dedicate

We, the Senior Class of 1966, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. James H. N. Waring, Jr., who has stimulated our mental and cultural development. When others have given up, he untiringly went on to instill in our minds a greater sense of right and wrong.

With his extensive knowledge, Mr. Waring has been an ever-present counselor, and offering his attention to us and willingness to help us find a way to keep on the right path. Mr. Waring once said, quote:

"Give true friendship and genuine love and you will be surrounded by many friends. Give to the world the best that you have and the best will come back to you."

Unquote.

I am very certain that the best has come back to Mr. Waring in overflowing abundance. In his endeavor to help us make a place for ourselves in life, he was very determined and strong-willed.

In dedicating this book, we realize it is a very small token for all the gifts of knowledge he has bestowed upon us, but with it we wish to extend the deepest appreciation in our hearts for all he has done.

--Helene Yvonne Pietrovito

Editor's Message

"...for ever of us, events, no sooner is a thing brought to sight when another follows it and this, too, will be swept away."

In life there are two major purposes. They are the will to live and the desire to advance. Throughout our entire lives and times, to advance these purposes are tested repeatedly by beginning and ending of time.

When we are young the desire to live is intense because there are many challenges to overcome. As time passes these desires dwindle. It seems we have overcome it all, and time will not let us face any more. It is at this phase in life that time becomes an enemy, pushing us into unknown dimensions. Time has rushed us into a world of no sympathy, understanding or compassion.

Time has been an enemy to us these years at Downingtown, an enemy that has made the days, weeks, months and years pass so quickly that we are shoved into a world that will not recognize us unless we make a reappearance on her other side. It is at this time we regret how time takes away so very fast our childhood dreams, aims and ambitions.

Time has been our ally, because it was time that brought us to Downingtown and it was time that made it love her so much. It was time that wrapped us in her arms and gently pushed us from the adolescent's side of life into young ladies and gentlemen. Time has done all these things for us. Some good and some bad. The best thing time did was to show us the path to Downingtown.

Yes, it was time that brought us to Downingtown, and now it is time that will take us away. But we are ready to face and strive forward to face a world of challenge and opportunity.

"Class History"

We entered Downingtown in September of 1962. For the entire Freshman Class this was our first year with the new building. We were all very nervous.

We elected our class officers in our first class meeting, they were: Isbell Carter, President, Claude Johnson, Vice President, Theodore Hall, Sergeant of Arms, Janet Weathersbee, Secretary, Jacquelyn Bradford, Assistant Secretary, Erma Weathersbee, Treasurer.

Our first representatives were: Isbell Carter, Claude Johnson, Jacquelyn Bradford, Rudolph Seth.

Our Sophomore Year was a little better than the first. We were all very nervous in our environment.

It gave us a total of 33 students.

Class officers for that year were: Rudolph Seth, President, Walter Smith III, Vice President, Claude Johnson, Secretary, Eugene Roberts, Assistant Secretary, William Norton, Treasurer, Howard J. Jones, Sergeant of Arms.

Our Court representatives were: Barbara Finney, William Norton, Eugene Weston, Anthony Harrison.

Miss Gibbs stuck with us diligently until she was called to a better position.

Our Junior Year was more of an expense than anything else. We had our first major project, which was the Junior-Senior Prom. Our title was Winter Wonderland. We are very proud of the success of our Prom. We all looked our best and had a gala evening.

During that year our Class officers were: Rudy Seth, President, Sandra Courtney, Vice President, Eugene Roberts, Secretary, Walter Brown, Treasurer, Katherine Carroll, Court rep.

Our Court representatives were: Ronald Kent, Sandra Courtney, Mark Cooper, Richard McLane.

In our Senior Year, we returned with the attitude of leaving so that our future years would prove successful.

We have ten surviving students from our original class, Jacquelyn Bradford, Walter Brown, Mark Cooper, Claude Johnson, Richard McLane, W. O'Lea Roberts, Erma Weathersbee, Janet Weathersbee, Bradley Hunter, Rudolph Seth.

A large obligation of our Senior Class is the publication of the DOWNINGTONIAN.

We are striving for a better future. Our ambitions today will show our success tomorrow.

Class of '66 at Bat!

One of the most popular sports at Downingtown is baseball. In the Spring of each year, every class sets forth a new team to compete with the other classes for the school championship. In our Freshman year our players were:

Jacquelynn Bradford	Loretta Flynn	James Johnson	Rudolph Seth
Sylvester Brown	Theodore Hall	Cynthia Ray	O'della Roberts
Isabell Carter	Bradley Hunter	Frank Richie
Mary Cooper	Claude Johnson	Erma Weathersbee

Although we were unable to beat any of the classes, we were not totally discouraged. We were determined to do better next Spring.

During the next term with Miss Johnson as our Sponsor once again, we set forth what we thought to be a better, stronger team. Our captain was Rudolph Seth with Bradley Hunter acting as co-captain.

This term our players were:

Isabell Carter	Anthony Harrison	Helene Y. Petrovito
Mary Cooper	Bradley Hunter	Rudolph Seth
Barbara Finney	William Morton, III	Suzanne Weston
Barbara Harris

This time our team tried harder and we scored a win. We defeated the Freshman class with a score of 10 to 4. We were still unable to defeat the Junior and Senior class.

During the next year, with Miss Johnson, we set forth a team that looked pretty good.

Our first game was with the Freshman class. We defeated them with a score of 10 to 1. It was a great game for us!

Our next game was scheduled with the sophomore class. We defeated them with a score of 15 to 7. And with much joy!

We were now set for first place with the Senior class. The title depended on this final game which was to be called the Senior School game. This class was the hardest one to defeat. We went into the game with high hopes and came out speechless when we won the game with a final score of 21 to 5. We had won the championship. Our winning team of players were:

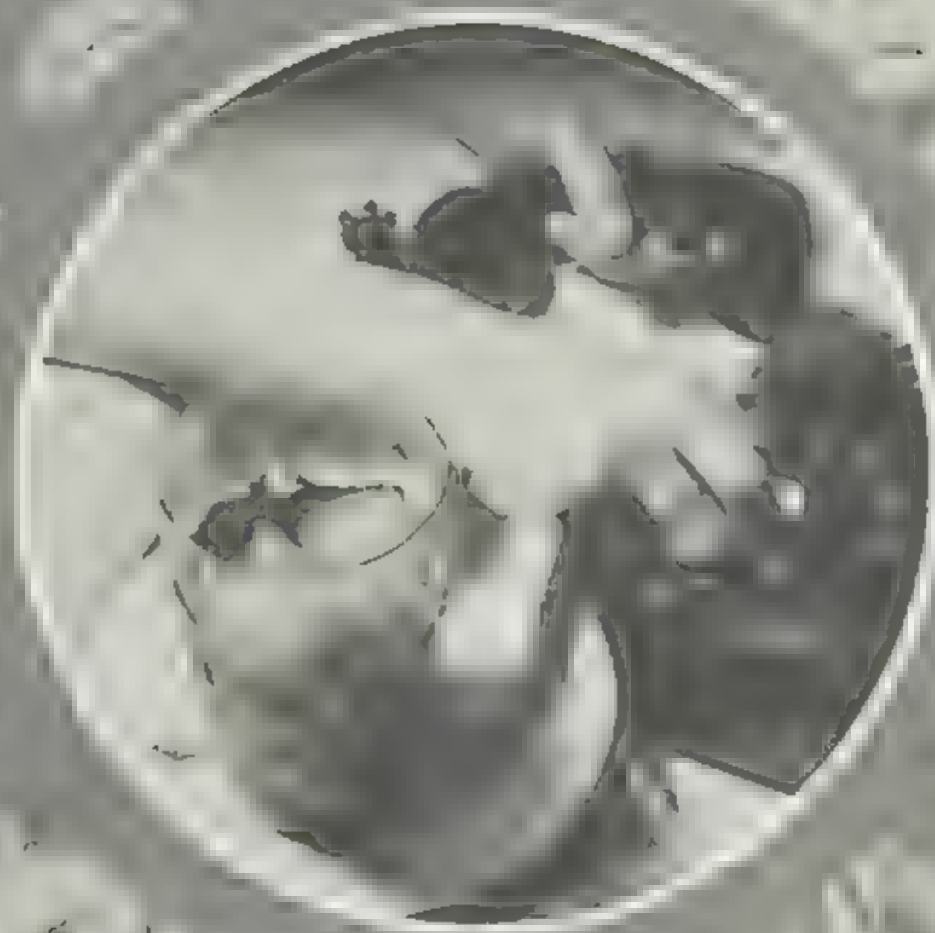

Walter Brown	Mary Cooper
Anthony Harrison	Audrey Gray
Bradley Hunter	Helene Y. Petrovito
Leonardo Littlejohn	O'della Roberts
William Morton, III	Erma Weathersbee
Rudolph Seth	Suzanne Weston

Pauline Garnett Barbara Finney

This team brought us the glorious victory and school letter that we had been striving for since our Freshman year at Downingtown.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF!!!

For many years Dramatics was a class which was held only for Senior students.

This is the first school term in which Dramatics has not been held as a regular class.

Mr. Lemmon is the Director of the group, which is quite small but performs well.

The members are as follows:

Back row (l to r) James Robinson, Sandra Thornton, Cheryl Patience, Barbara Williams, Larry Smith.

By stately hills surrounded
Like sentinels so bold
O'er which the sun at close of day
Sends wondrous rays of gold.
Downingtoun, we hail thee
Thy name in song we raise -
And bring in deepest reverence
Our offering of praise.

The fleeting, carefree hours of youth
So swiftly pass away,
The happiest moments of our lives
We've passed beneath thy sway.
Can we e'er forget thee?
In all our hearts enshrined -
And memories of the golden days
The link still closer binds.

When school days are over
And we have passed beyond;
The tender guidance of Thy hand
Thy name shall still live on.
And just as in the days of old
We made the hills resound -
We'll cheer again in loyalty
The name of DOWNINGTOWN.

ORGANIZATIONS

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Downingtown is sponsored by Mrs. Helen L. Lewis, with Mrs. Florence O. Amos acting as co-sponsor.

The oath of the Girl Scouts is: "On my honor I will try to do my duty to God and my country and to help other people at all times and obey the Girl Scout Oath."

The Girl Scouts have four patrols in their group. They have a scribe, Erma Weathersbee, who takes the minutes of their meetings.

Members are as follows:
